Citizens of Campbell to vote next Tuesday

Voters in the City of Campbell will go to the polls next Tuesday, April 9, to cast ballots in the municipal election in which six candidates are seeking three City Council seats that are open.

If past records mean anything, approximately 2200 local citizens will participate in the voting next Tuesday.

Three of the candidates, Ed Rogers, Bill Smeed and Charles Rose, are incumbents. Rogers is seeking his third term. Smeed his second and Rose has served 10 years on the Council but was off from 1960 to 1964.

The three challengers are Dean Chamberlin, long-time Campbell resident and a member of the Planning Commission; Bob Dalzell, named this city's outstanding young man for 1967 and Henry Batis.

On page 2 of this issue, The Press makes its traditional endorsements.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan reports that 7456 voters are eligible to vote in the city election next Tuesday. However, based on the past city council elections, less than 30% of the eligible voters will turn out. The highest percentage in the past was 28% in 1966 when 2008 voted out of a registration of 7545.

However, last October when the four bond measures were passed totalling $2,620,000, there was a 29% turnout when 2087 voted out of 7205 registered.

In 1966 Councilmen Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde were elected for four-year terms and they set a new city record for votes received. Both topped 1000 votes. That was the first time in this city's history that any council candidate had collected that many votes.

Prior to that, Councilman Bill Smeed, now serving as vice-mayor, held the record. He led the field in 1964 with 698 votes. He was followed by Rose and Rogers in that election.

City Clerk Trevethan has established 15 precincts for election, the same number and the same locations as were in effect in the city bond election on Oct. 24.

Observers of the local political scene maintain that more interest in this election seems to have been generated because of the candidates' activities than in any previous one.

Although there has been no one basic issue in the campaign to divide the town, the passage of the bond issues last year, many feel, seems to have created a new civic enthusiasm and climate that will move Campbell to the forefront.

Rogers, 53, currently serving as mayor, was elected to the council in 1960 and re-elected in 1964. He holds a Ph.D. degree from Stanford and is professor of political science at San Jose State. His residence is at 150 Branbury.

Smeed, 38, is vice-mayor and was top vote-getter when elected to the council in 1964. He served on the Planning Commission prior to his election to the council and was commission chairman when elected. He attended Campbell Grammar and Campbell High. He is a graduate of University of Santa Clara and is an attorney-at-law. He and his wife, Beverly, and three children reside at 443 Manchester.

Rose, 54, served as mayor 1964-66 and was elected to the City Council for the first time in 1954. He was off the Council from 1960-64 but has a 10-year record as councilman. He is a life-long resident of Campbell and he has been a businessman and property owner of the community for 22 years. He resides at 80 E. Hamilton.

Chamberlin, 52, is a high school administrator and has lived in Campbell for 29 years. He has served as a teacher and administrator in the Campbell Union High School District. He was appointed to the Planning Commission in December, 1966. He lives at 102 Carlyn.

Dalzell, 32, has lived in Campbell since he was 10 years old, attending Campbell Grammar, Campbell High and holds a B.A. degree from San Jose State College. He has been employed in the PG&E office in San Jose for 11 years. His home is at 249 Ken Circle.

Batis, 48, is a bread truck driver salesman. For the past seven years he has been active in the McKinnon School for Retarded, serving as fund chairman and president of the PTA. He is a member of the Los Ranchitos Homeowners group and resides at 1629 Calado Court.

Overpass gets ok

County Supervisors on Monday gave their blessing to the unique joint financial venture of the county, City of Campbell, City of San Jose and the Campbell elementary school district that will eventually produce a pedestrian overpass at Rincon Ave. and the expressway.

Under a formula that has been informally hammered out by the agencies concerned, the county from expressway funds would pick up the tab for one-half the cost of the total overpass or about $50,000.

School district officials have indicated that they could find $12,500, which also would be the city of San Jose's share.

Campbell has agreed to finance one-fourth the cost or $25,000. This amount was covered in the bond issue approved by the citizens of the city last October.

The action of the supervisors on Monday followed the recommendation of the Transportation Policy Committee.

All four agencies, the county, school district, San Jose and Campbell, are involved in the project because all four either benefit or are responsible in some way for the problem.

An incorporated area of San Jose (the famous Cherry Lane annexation) will be served by the overpass; the overpass will serve the future Rincon Park for the city and it will eliminate serious traffic hazard for the school children.

Basically the county is involved, interested citizens point out because, if the county hadn't built the expressway, the overpass would not have been needed in the first place.

Planning Commission forwards four recommendations for Council action

Four of the items on the City Council agenda next Monday night, April 8, have been forwarded to the Council based on action taken by the Planning Commission last Monday.

These include the commission's approval of the request of Fred Chez for a one year extension in the development schedule for the Herbert Bykowski property at Hamilton and Llewellyn avenues. The area has been zoned "PD". Chez explained to the commission that a number of problems have arisen forcing modification of the original plans and the extra time was needed.

Forwarded for City Council action also was the approval by the Commission of the request of Crocker-Citizens National Bank for extension of time in the development schedule of the Rolling Hills Shopping Center located at San Tomas Aquino Road and Hacienda.

Approved also by the commission were the plans for Phase II of the shopping center which included a restaurant-cocktail lounge. But the commission deferred action on the request for patron dancing at the restaurant until May 6.

Two parcel maps, one for John Vierhus for property on the south side of E. Campbell Ave. and the other for the Gerard Tire Service on the Schleeter property on the south side of E. Hamilton at Bascom, were approved by the commission and were forwarded for City Council action next Monday.

There is also a possibility that still another action by the Planning Commission, a denial, could hit the City Council on appeal next Monday also.

The Planning Commission by a unanimous vote denied the request of Kenneth W. Bott for a use permit to allow an automatic car wash operation to be located at 424 Darryl Drive, approximately 160 feet south of W. Hamilton Ave.

In his oral request to the Commission, Bott claimed that the car wash was compatible to the seven service stations that had been approved for W. Hamilton Ave. He also pointed out that an automobile agency that had been planned for W. Hamilton but for which plans had fallen through would also have been an integrated operation.

But the commission members felt that the location was not right for the car wash and SHADES OF THE PAST--Dick Morton, prominent San Jose attorney and this city's first mayor, probably had a touch of nostalgia recently when he appeared for a client before the present City Council.

Morton, who served six years on the Council (until 1958), was mayor when the city administration moved into the present city hall. At the council meeting he represented Jack-in-the-Box which was asking for a zoning change for property at Camden and White Oaks to allow a restaurant to be located there.

RAIN DROPS

During the Monday storm .70 of an inch of rain fell bringing the total rainfall to 14.36 inches for the season. During the last year at the same time 21.04 inches had been recorded with 14.07 inches as normal.

City Council candidates get chance to present platforms at forum

Nearly 100 persons attended the "Candidates Forum" at Campbell High School cafeteria last Friday evening to hear the three incumbents and the three aspirants to the Campbell City Council present their views on community affairs.

Sponsored by the Campbell JayCees and the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, the forum was moderated by Dale Scott, 264 Radford Dr., executive director of the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association.

Following a 10-minute talk by each candidate, written questions were received from the audience. Coffee and donuts were served by the JayCettes at the conclusion of the forum.

C of C and JayCee officials were pleased with the turnout for the forum, although it had been hoped that more citizens would have indicated their interest.

The election for three members to the Council is slated for next Tuesday, April 9.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

RECENTLY THE NEWSpaper publishers association for this area met in Santa Cruz at a restaurant on the wharf.

Crab cioppino was the main course for the dinner.

Admittedly crab is a delicacy that is mighty tasty and this cioppino bit makes a good dish.

But, man alive, it is really work to eat fish in that manner.

Although we were too busy digging away to look around at our fellow publishers, it must have been quite a sight.

Those bibs that each of us wore for protection did not do anything to improve the looks of the newspaper group.

But without the bibs it would have been worse.

We were reminded of that newspaper fishfest by a news release this week announcing that a crab cioppino festival would take place on Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco on April 20.

ONE OF THE FEATURES of the festival, according to the publicity, will be a crab cioppino eating contest to the tune of music and entertainment.

The release does not mention whether the contestants must bring their own bibs, except indirectly.

And we quote:"...Predictions are that there will be a score of shell-shocked contestants before the final claw is cracked, and the champion stands covered with glory, and, would you believe, cioppino sauce..."

Apparently anyone can enter the crab eating contest. All that is needed is to send your name and address to Art Blum Relations Agency, the firm that is promoting the festival.

If it wasn't such hard work, we might be persuaded to enter.

But, if the appearance of our fellow publishers after they had finished with their crab cioppino is indicative of what the contestants will look like on Fisherman's Wharf on April 20, a bib concession would be a better deal to crab onto.

SPEAKER AT THE PUBlishers affair was Arnold F. True, a retired U.S. Navy admiral, who has taught at San Jose State for the past 20 years as a professor of meterology.

The retired admiral was in competition to the crab cioppino, plus a few tables of an overflow crowd from the main dining room that were shunted into the back room. Still, his talk provoked so many questions burled at him from the floor, that the admiral must have thought he was under bombardment again on the high seas.

During World War II he had a ship sunk under him.

As you are probably well aware, newspaper people are noted for their give-and-talk in the question-and-answer periods. They can make it fairly rough.

And they did on this occasion.

The admiral was the sole non-newspaper person present yet the publishers were not able to spike his guns. He was still firing at the end.

As you might have guessed, the admiral spoke on the Viet Nam situation.

But, as you might not have guessed, he took the anti-military side...

He contended in his talk that there was no way to win the Viet Nam conflict. He expounded in great length on this premise.

With that as his theme, you can well imagine some of the questions that were tossed out by the publishers present.

You might say that, in addition to crab, there were ample servings of both "dove" and "hawk" that particular night.

And that can be hard on one's digestive system or rather nervous system.

Even for newspaper people.

Editorial

The Press endorses—

Smeed, Rogers, Chamberlin

The Campbell Press recommends that next Tuesday, April 9, in the city election that you cast your ballots for William S. Smeed, Edward J. Rogers and Dean Chamberlin.

This recommendation has been made only after considerable soul-searching and study. It is never an easy task for a community newspaper to make endorsements in a local election.

On state or national levels, or even on a countywide basis, editorial endorsements and recommendations in many cases are strictly impersonal. In many such cases, the editor does not even know the candidate he is endorsing.

But, as you all know, that is not true in a local election in a city the size of Campbell.

We know all the candidates personally but still feel we have been objective in our editorial approach.

We concede, however, that there will be many who think otherwise.

For example, this editorial endorses two incumbents (Smeed and Rogers) and a planning commissioner, (Dean Chamberlin).

We sincerely believe that these three men have demonstrated that they have vision tempered with good common sense as this community stands on the threshold of its greatest era of development.

We also believe that Robert (Bob) Dalzell would make an excellent councilman. Unfortunately, however, only three can be elected. But Dalzell, who was named this community's outstanding young man of 1967, has much to offer his community.

If he is not elected, we hope he continues to work for a better community and possibly serve on one of the city's advisory commissions.

The "ticket" of Smeed, Rogers and Chamberlin, in our opinion, offers this community a combination of stability, integrity, experience.

In addition, all three of them have demonstrated that they are cost-conscious where the tax dollar is concerned.

But at the same time they recognize that for a city to move ahead they must have vision.

We maintain that last year (1967) the City of Campbell came of age when the citizens of this city approved by a two-thirds vote four civic improvement bond issues totalling $2,600,000.

All three of these candidates, Smeed and Rogers as councilmen, and Chamberlin, as a planning commissioner, were enthusiastic supporters of the bond issues. They were in the forefront when this city came of age.

In our opinion, last year was not the time for civic leaders to "drag their feet". There was too much at stake in our community.

No longer could this community rest on the laurels of what happened 10-years back, if anything did.

This city had been dormant too long and apparently a great majority of the people felt the same way, for they enthusiastically endorsed the capital improvement program, an unusual feat in face of bond turndowns in many other cities.

We are looking forward to a "new" Campbell and we need men with foresight and vision.

We sincerely believe that Smeed, Rogers and Chamberlin have this.

Smeed is now vice-mayor and is seeking his second term. He is 38 years old and attended Campbell Grammar, Campbell High and University of Santa Clara. He is an attorney and before being elected to the City Council he was chairman of the Planning Commission.

Rogers, who served as mayor this last year, received his Ph.D. from Stanford and is professor of political science at San Jose State. He is seeking his third term as councilman. He is 53.

Chamberlin, 52, is a member of the Planning Commission and a long-time resident of Campbell (29 years). He is a high school administrator.

We sincerely believe that our city will be best served if Bill Smeed, Ed Rogers and Dean Chamberlin are elected next Tuesday.

We hope that you mark your ballot in that manner.

denied the request. The applicant has 10 days in which to file an appeal to the Council.

The Planning Commission on Monday approved the plans for a warehouse and office submitted by R.V. Cloud at 2980 Winchester Blvd. and also for an office addition for Robert Walker at 200 Cristich Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bommarito were granted a variance for a carport at their apartments at 1101 W. Hamilton but they were directed to bring in new plans for the structure.

The commission continued action on the application of Mrs. Adelaide Roberts, for a building permit on two landlocked lots. She was represented by Milt Hetzel, a licensed engineer and former city manager of Campbell.

In addition to the items forwarded by the Planning Commission, the City Council next Monday is scheduled to adopt four ordinances: (1) rezoning to duplexes the property on Virginia Ave. owned by Robert Meyer and Associates; (2) the street tree ordinance; (3) the establishing of a $25 fee for applications for architectural approval by the Planning Commission; (4) allowing for City Council annual review of all regulatory business licenses.

An annexation ordinance will be given first reading as a new ordinance prohibiting pedestrians on expressways and freeways.

Dr. Hall said that all applications for admission, test scores and transcripts for all incoming students will be received on the Campbell campus. Re-registration counseling appointment for day students, the counselor will ascertain the student's major. On the student's Trial Program, the counselor will indicate "Saratoga campus" for all students whose major is included in the list above of programs to be taught at Saratoga.

Only technical and vocational students with major programs taught on the Saratoga campus will be given day class cards during the verification of registration.

Vocational majors that will continue to be taught on the Campbell campus include Business (Accounting, Clerical, Marketing and Sales, Secretarial), Data Processing, Real Estate, Police Science, and X-Ray Technician.

College board to study aid cut legislature

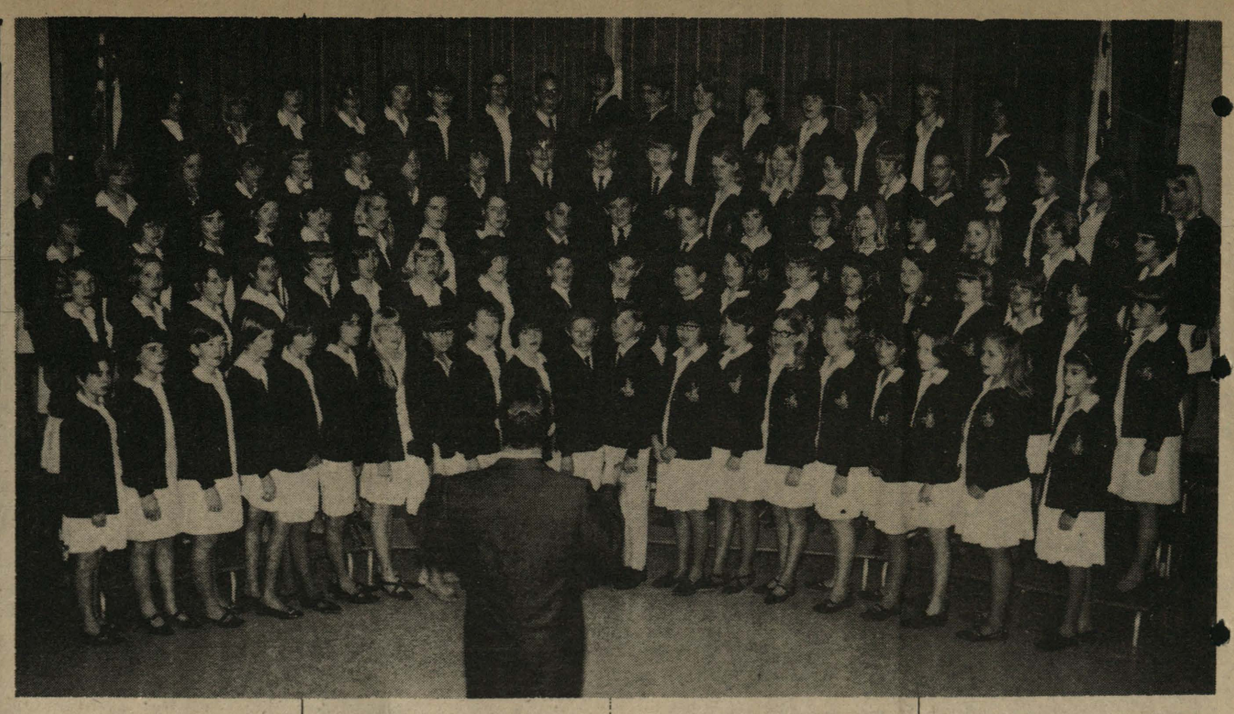
West Valley College Board of Trustees recently adopted a "wait and see" attitude to a proposal advanced by State Director of Finance, Casper W. Weinberger, for a 6.7 per cent decrease in State aid during the next fiscal year, 1968-69.

Information pertaining to the proposed cut was contained in a form letter sent by Weinberger to all school districts in the State. Weinberger said the decrease was necessary because of an $82,000,000 error in the legislative estimate of the 1968-69 costs of the School Aid bill, adopted by the Legislature "in the closing days of the 1967 session."

He indicated that the administration was proposing legislative measures to provide for the decrease, and the board agreed with Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, that it take no action until such legislation is introduced and can be examined.

In another matter, the Board held a public hearing and adopted a resolution conveying property for street purposes to the assessment district responsible for improvements in and around the Saratoga campus. It involved a transfer of $61,912 from the assessment district to the school district.

The Board also extended lease agreements for another year for parking lots and office facilities around the Campbell campus.



FLY TO LOS ANGELES--The Festival Choir of Rolling Hills Junior High School in the Campbell District, comprised of 100 pupils will fly to Los Angeles on Monday, April 8, to sing at the California State Music Educators Convention. Competition for the honor was state-wide, including more than 100 singing groups from elementary schools through college. Mr. Ray Johnson is the director.

Rolling Hills choir to perform in Los Angeles.

Excitement is in the air at Rolling Hills Junior High School this week as its 100 member Festival Choir prepares to fly to Los Angeles to sing at the California State Music Educators Convention at the Biltmore Hotel.

The Rolling Hills Choir has been working towards this goal since school opened last September. Two mornings each week they have reported to choir director Ray Johnson at 7:45 a.m. for half hour rehearsals before school in addition to their regular daily class meeting.

Fund raising activities included a spaghetti dinner held last month to finance the trip.

The choir will proceed to San Francisco International Airport by bus, where they will board a Western Airlines Jet for Los Angeles. On arrival, they will be taken to the Biltmore Hotel for their performance. After singing, they will go to Disneyland for the day, perhaps giving another performance at the famous playland before returning to Campbell.

PERFORM FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN--Dr. Gibson Walters and the San Jose State College Chamber Ensemble performed for 250 third and fourth grade pupils in the Moreland School District at the Gussie Baker School last Friday morning. The youngsters were especially fascinated with the harp played by Mrs. Nancy Gustafson.

Moreland elementary grades hear professional musicians

The opportunity for local school children to hear fine music played by professional musicians was offered last Friday morning at the Gussie Baker School in the Moreland School District by Young Audiences, Inc. of Santa Clara County.

Third and fourth graders from Baker, El Quito, Easterbrook, Strawberry Park, Anderson and Phelan elementary schools were delighted by the music of Dr. Gibson Walters and his San Jose State College Chamber Ensemble, consisting of violin, flute, viola, cello and harp. Dr. Walters, and his musicians are all on the faculty of San Jose State College's music department. They had a beautiful rapport with their young listeners, answering questions about the instruments and demonstrating sounds.

The program is offered as a music appreciation hour, more for children who do not play an instrument and who are unfamiliar with the sounds and range of the various instruments. The concert and demonstration lasted for 45 minutes, just long enough not to tire the young listeners.

FILL GAP

Santa Clara County has not been exposed to much in the way of live concerts in the schools by professional musicians. In an effort to fill the gap, the Santa Clara County Chapter of Young Audiences, was formed. This new chapter, under the leadership of Mrs. Lucien Dean Hertert, has gotten off to a good start. It has only two ensembles so far, the San Jose State College Chamber Ensemble and the Amici della Musica String Quartet of Santa Clara.

By the end of this school year, the chapter will have presented more than 70 Young Audiences concerts by these two groups. Next fall the group hopes to add brass and woodwind ensembles to the list of performing artists.

PTA PROJECT

In some cases, the costs of the concerts are borne by the school districts. Sometimes organizations, such as the PTA and Home and School Clubs help raise part of the funds. In this county, Local 153 of the Musicians Union has contributed funds to this program. Mrs. Hertert is anxious to get the Stanford University Music Department interested in supporting the program in Santa Clara County. For more information call Mrs. Hertert at 252-5928.

Class of 1948 seeks members for May reunion

Some of our Campbell High School graduates are missing.

Lest Principal Bob Culp be concerned when he reads that, let us hasten to tell him that they aren't current graduates.

They graduated in 1948, and some of their classmates are trying to find them.

The purpose? So they may join with their classmates in a gala 20 year reunion on May 11 at the Almaden Golf and Country Club, according to Dick Chapman, reunion chairman. This is the fourth such reunion that Chapman has organized and "each time we lose a few."

Currently "missing" are Bruce Barber, Marguerite Battaglia Bellomo, Miles Dennis, Luella Devich, David DeVilbiss, Dolores Dotson, Aileen Goodson, Ken Kitajima, Yooko Maekawa, Donald Murray, Wayne Pipkins, Opal Turpin, Ray Thompson, Rose Yonemoto, Harold Calloway, Alberta Brown, A. Klinkenbeard, Florence Whetstone, Bernadine Thompson, Rachael Genry Allen, Geraldine Morrison, Mrs. Frank Koehler and Mrs. Eugene Pate.

Aiding Chapman in his search are Lorraine Miranda Ferguson, Jean Cascio James (377-8075), Harold Ely, John Giacomazzi, Janet Schifanno Gardner and Milton Howe. Chapman's number is 356-6473.

PLAN RUMMAGE SALE--Doctors Hospital Candy Stripers Gail Kirchner, Nancy Kilpatrick, Jeanne DeLucchi and Debbie Dickers (left to right) make plans with Mrs. William Dailey of Campbell for a combined bake sale and rummage sale on Sunday and Monday, April 7 and 8, in the hospital's Blanchard Auditorium. The girls are sitting on a vibrating chaise lounge which was one of the articles donated for their sale.

Candy stripers plan sale to aid activities

The Candy Stripers of Doctor's General Hospital, with strong support from the senior Auxiliary, are holding a combined bake sale and rummage sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 7, and Monday, April 8. It will be located in the hospital's Blanchard Auditorium at 976 Lenzen Ave., just between The Alameda and Stockton Ave. in San Jose.

Mrs. Wm. Dailey, newly elected as president-elect to succeed the new Auxiliary President, Mrs. Walter Rector, is working as committee chairman representing the seniors in helping the teen-age volunteers organize their sale. First article donated for the rummage sale is a combined vibrating massaging couch - which is a pretty exotic beginning.

Candy Striper President Gail Kerchner has named a committee of girls including several from the Campbell area who attend Westmont High School, to help with this project. Profits will be used partly to support the Candy Striper fun activities such as a campout planned for June 21-23 at Mt. Madonna and the ocean, and their annual awards tea.

Other funds raised will be donated to Doctors General Hospital for one of their service projects. The girls presently are helping make hand puppets and dress Barbie dolls for pediatrics patients; also small size pajamas with pretty animal appliques for tiny patients. They make tray favors for various holidays throughout the year.

Camden Capers

By Caren Daniels

Sighs of relief were heard from Camdenites as the third quarter ended last Friday. The final quarter began this week, with all poor-scorers being given another chance.

Along with the end of the school year come various scholarships and awards, especially for the seniors. These will be presented at the All Awards Assembly this spring, but a few were announced at the Honors Banquet last Wednesday evening. Roger Heath a Heath was the surprised recipient of the Security Savings and Loan Award. Four awardees also given special recognitions were Kirk Cunningham, Bank of America Math and Science Finalist, Linda Meredith, Fine Arts finalist, Chris Carnes, Vocational Arts finalist and Steve Bignell, Liberal Arts finalist.

SENIOR NITE

The first of four Senior Recreation nights will commence tonight at 7:30 in the boys' gym. These two hours of free enjoyment for any senior will include volleyball, basketball, pool, swimming, various table games, records and refreshments.

Representatives from the Navy, Marines, Army and Coast Guard branches of the Armed Services converged upon the Camden campus Thursday, March 29, to relay their information and extend their services to senior boys. Nearly 90% of the senior boys attended the non-compulsory meeting. Information was presented by each of the four representatives, followed by a question and answer period, pertaining to the draft, college deferments and enlisting.

SPORTS

It took eight innings to do it, but Camden's baseball team was victorious over the Del Mar Dons in their Thursday afternoon game. Scoring from a base hit, Bob VanHuesen came home from third base in the bottom of the 8th, ending the game with a final score of 2-1. Limelighters for the day were Lynn Langefeldt, who hit a home run, and Rich Troedson, who pitched the entire game.

A reverse result came out of the tennis match, with the Dons winning 4-3 on Camden's courts. Victorious Cougar netmen were Dennis Shean, Dennis Garvey, and the doubles team of Jeff Lindman and John Gebelein.

The track and swim team followed suit, losing to Del Mar Friday.

GAA volleyball finals were held Saturday, with Camden's 'A' team taking first place, and the 'B' team placing third. In league competition, the GAA volleyballers won five out of six of their meets.

The gymnastic team placed second in the finals competition, scoring in floor exercise, balance beam, vaulting and tumbling.

Pony loop plans final tryouts

Final tryouts for the Campbell-Moreland Pony League will be held this weekend (Saturday-Sunday) April 6-7 at the Castro Junior High diamond according to Bob W. Nickeson.

According to league officials, youngsters are eligible for the local Pony League if their birthdates fall between August 1, 1953 and July 31, 1955 and they live in the league area.

They ask for a parent to accompany the boy and that a birth certificate be presented.

The Campbell-Moreland Pony League is looking for all interested 13-14 year old boys who want to participate in "big league" baseball competition.

On Saturday, April 6, 13-year olds will work out at 9 a.m. and 14 year-olds at 1 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday.

Castro Junior High is located east of the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center on Campbell Avenue.

Fashion show

The Women's Division of the Santa Clara County Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society is sponsoring a luncheon and fashion show at the Almaden Country Club next Wednesday, April 10.

Lovely fashions will be presented by Leone Van Arsdale with the theme "Easter in Bloom." Social hour is 11:30 a.m. and the luncheon will be served at 12:30. Everyone is invited.

Proceeds will be used to further research to discover the cause and cure of this crippling disease.

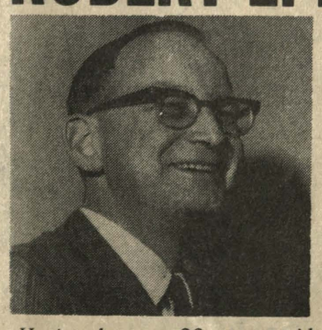
APRIL IS "GOOD GROOMING MONTH"

ROBERT E. DALZELL



FOR CITY COUNCIL

Having been a 22 year resident of Campbell, now a home-owner and father of two, I have a stake in this city. So have all of YOU, newcomers or old; renters, landlords or homeowners; married, single; laborers, professionals, white or blue collar workers. Let's all see that we do our part to protect this stake!

I have been active in community affairs for the last few years and have been frustrated by a lack of concern on the part of many citizens and an acceptance of this by some officials. Therefore, I am now running for City Council, because I am sure that with the right approach we can awaken this "sleeping" community. Recently two Congresses for Community Progress and the successful bond issue have borne this out. However, we have a long way to go. We must stop expecting the people to flock to City Hall. City Hall must go to the people!

First, we must show our good faith by adopting good planning practices and have the courage to keep our zoning changes within that plan. Changes in the plan must be for the benefit of the citizenry as a whole.

Secondly, how better can the city show her citizens she cares than by stopping the upward tax spiral within her jurisdiction? This can be done in the long term by careful, balanced planning and in the present by encouraging development of existing industrial and commercial sites. Undeveloped land of these types take dollars from each of us!

Next, I believe that one of the best ways for the leadership in the community to show its esteem for the citizens is to ask to use their talents. We haven't sufficient money to develop adequate parks? Service clubs, industry, youth groups, oldster organizations - yes, and individuals represent a huge untapped resource.

Finally, I am concerned that so many eligible Campbellites are not registered to vote and many who are registered do not vote. Perhaps the best "voter registration drive" we could have is a project involving neighborhood residents. How many people do you think would sweat to help build a park and then not use the ballot to insure its wise use? Yes, I expect to represent all Campbell citizens, I expect to involve all Campbell citizens. The apathy of talented and energetic people is a luxury we cannot afford!

Youngsters take on a project

Members of three Campbell Junior Garden Clubs, the Baby Roses, the Camp Belles and Jet Planters, planted 60 shrubs around the entry way to St. Lucy's new church on Winchester Blvd. recently.

When completed, 225 shrubs, mostly juniper tams and Indian hawthorne, will be planted. The next three weeks will be busy ones for the junior gardeners, all students at St. Lucy's School. Mrs. Joseph Aversente is directing the project.

One section of the garden will be the responsibility of the juniors to keep cultivated, weeded and fertilized. The project is partly financed by the money they received for their garden entry at the Santa Clara County Fair.

JUNIOR GARDENERS--Father John Lally (far left) and Mrs. Joseph Aversente (far right) pose with 20 Junior Gardeners who have taken on the responsibility of planting over 200 shrubs around St. Lucy's Church, and to care for sections of the planted area by weeding, cultivating and watering. The girls are all students at St. Lucy's School.

GARDEN PROJECT--Little Karen Nagengast plants shrubs at St. Lucy's Church, Winchester Blvd., with other members of the "Baby Roses" Junior Garden Club, sponsored by the Santa Clara Valley District of California Garden Clubs. Over 60 shrubs were planted by this group of youngsters to beautify the entrance to St. Lucy's new church. Mrs. Lee Aversente of Campbell is leader of the Junior Garden Clubs.

West Valley prepares for accreditation

A searching self-appraisal by staff and faculty of West Valley College is contained in a 112-page booklet prepared for the visit, April 23-25, of the examination team of the Accreditation Commission of Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

In its first visit to the school in 1966, two-year accreditation was granted to the college.

The bound booklet, which the team will use as a starting point for its accreditation re-examination, was prepared under the direction of Dr. Gordon D. Aumack, assistant superintendent and dean of instruction at the college.

The report opens with a history of the five-year old college and its organization, its part in the Santa Clara County Master Plan for Junior College District Organization, construction schedule for the Saratoga campus, and student activities.

There is a comparison of the various different communities that comprise the district, including an estimate of a total population within the district of some 300,000 persons.

Because of the growth pattern in the district and in the San Jose area generally, considerable emphasis is placed on the means whereby the college staff keeps aware of the changing nature of the community it serves.

There is also a listing of the increasing numbers of students who take advantage of the facilities offered them, both as regular day students, and, in increasing numbers as extended day or evening students.

A breakdown of enrollment shows that in 1967, 710 students undertook Liberal Arts programs, 469 were enrolled as business majors, 130 took art courses, 118 were in education courses and 107 took political science-history classes, among others.

Records are shown listing the sizes of certificated and office personnel, and a section contains the "Aims and Purposes" and educational philosophy espoused by the college in both four-year college transfer and two-year terminal programs in the vocational-technical areas. Emphasis is also placed on the increasing role of the college in the area of Community Services and continuing adult education, as well as the growing importance of providing counseling services for students.

Curriculum development in relation to the nature of the community both in the college transfer and vocational education areas, is emphasized.

Considerable attention is given to the facilities available now on the crowded Campbell campus and the beginning of construction on the Saratoga campus, where limited classes will begin in the fall.

Introduction of data processing to the college and the role it is playing in speeding up registration, informational and other processes, is emphasized.

Finally, there is outlined the cooperative efforts of the board, administration, and faculty in all facets of the college operation.

Valley Medical Center has biggest wash in county

Imagine washing 2,300,000 pounds of laundry a year! This is the volume of Santa Clara Valley Medical Center's wash, according to Maintenance Supervisor A.J. "Tony" Kojan.

"Our laundry room does all the washing and ironing for the Valley Medical Center, County Health Department, County Children's Shelter, Muriel M. Wright Girls' Ranch, Willaim F. James Boys' Ranch and Boys' Ranch No. 2,"Kojan states.

The Medical Center laundry room is one of the principal users of steam and hot water produced by the two 500 horsepower boilers located in the big institutions' $295,000 boiler house.

Producing 20,000 pounds of steam per hour, the boilers use 325,000 gallons of water per day. The water, obtained from a well located at the rear of the boiler house, is stored in a 75,000-gallon tank which stands behind the structure. The tank is filled three times a day.

The boiler house also shelters one of the Medical Center's three emergency generators, which start less than one second after a power failure. The generators supply enough power to meet the demands of the hospital complex, County Health Department, Joseph M. McKinnon School, and the County's Chandler Tripp School for the physically handicapped.

The boilers are given an interior visual inspection once a year by the State of California and Pacific Indemnity Company. At that time all safety devices are also inspected. The boilers will last indefinitely with proper care, Kojan says.

In addition to the laundry facilities steam is required by the Valley Medical Center for heating, cooking, operating the sterilizers, and by the McKinnon School.

Construction began in July, 1967 by the S. & D. Construction Company of San Jose and was completed February 15, 1968.

MORE ABOUT

and gals at The Press sort of figured your editor had finally gone too far and that some irate reader was attacking the joint.

There was this crash-banging against the side and rear walls of the plant which sounded as if the joint was under bombardment.

We all bravely rushed out to face up to our adversaries.

It turned out that "Irate Reader" was not involved.

Instead it was a bunch of young kids who had discovered a dandy cache of empty wine bottles that had been left by the "winos" who have used the empty lot next door to The Press as their haven for years.

The boys were having great fun tossing the bottles against the building and watching the glass break into hundreds of pieces.

Before running away one of the little kids brought down the house (figuratively speaking, of course).

When Cliff Harrington yelled at the kids to stop, this one little tyke, about 10 years old, held up both his hands in mock horror...

"I ain't done nuthin", he called out and then took off across the field.

They learn early nowadays.

Maybe it is because of the TV influence.

ONE DID NOT HAVE TO be a gourmet to be impressed by the buffet dinner last week served by the food services and restaurant management classes at West Valley College.

Members of the Advisory Committee of West Valley College were guests of the governing board of the college at the dinner.

It was our first meeting as a committee member.

We must say that we were suitably impressed by the menu for the dinner, as well as Dr. Wallace Hall's report of progress of the college during the past year.

The problem we face in a buffet dinner, as opposed to the sit-down kind, is that by the time we finish going through the line we find we need sideboards for our plate.

And there is always something that we want left but there is no room on our plate for it.

What makes it worse is that our appetite is not considered large and thus we seldom finish what is on our plate. But we still want the food we didn't get.

That happened at the college board dinner but we came out of it in great style.

We simply took a clean plate and picked up the "cornets of smoked salmon" and "Duchess Tomatoes" that we had been drooling over.

Incidentally, the food was so bountiful that the guy next to us thought that the next day's class at the college should emphasize how to dress up left-overs.

ON THE EDITORIAL page in this issue The Campbell Press makes its endorsement for the three City Council positions that will be filled at next Tuesday's election.

Naturally many of you will not agree with us...for difference of opinion, they say, makes horse racing and elections.

Anyway The Press feels that Bill Smeed, Ed Rogers and Dean Chamberlin are worthy of your support at the polls.

Smeed and Rogers are incumbents while Chamberlin is now on the Planning Commission which should prove invaluable to him as a councilman.

If there was a fourth opening on the City Council we would endorse Bob Dalzell for the spot.

We feel that this 32-year old young man has a great deal to offer his community in the future.

But whether or not you like the way we are going to mark our ballot, go to the polls next Tuesday regardless.

And vote for the man of our choice.

Our track team also defeated the Campbell track team Friday.

Some senior citizens may get tax relief

Some 150,000 California senior citizens will be able to take advantage of a new property tax assistance program this year which provides for reimbursement of a portion of the property taxes paid.

The new program, which was enacted last year, is called the Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law and it will benefit those senior citizen property owners who have limited incomes. The program is being administered by the Franchise Tax Board.

To qualify, claimants must be California residents, over 65 years of age, must own their own home, and have paid the property taxes for the current fiscal year. Claims may be filed between May 16 and August 31 and the reimbursements can be made between July 1 and November 30.

Claim forms and information may be obtained by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, Calif.

Claimants will be able to obtain reimbursement of up to 95% of the property taxes, depending upon their income. Those with $1,000 gross income or less would be eligible for the 95% reimbursement.

Cash stolen

James O. Goodman, 74, 954 Crockett Ave., reports the theft of $250 in cash from his home. Goodman said he kept the money in a box in a bureau in the bedroom. Nothing else was disturbed, he told Campbell police.

Goodman said the burglar could have entered the house while he was working in the backyard.

Collection costs below estimates

Collection costs of Santa Clara County's local vehicle license fee have been appreciably below estimates, Board of Supervisors Chairman Ralph H. Mehrkens has revealed.

Instead of the estimated cost of 3% of total collections, the State Department of Motor Vehicles has found its actual expense to be only one-half of one per cent.

"This news is particularly gratifying," said Mehrkens, "when it is understood this savings will be directly spent for the construction of additional expressway projects."

Whether the county's unique Expressway Program is to continue will be decided by voters June 4.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The disastrous effects of the Tet offensive in South Vietnam have dominated the news from Asia. Even the earthshaking PUEBLO story has been relegated to the back pages by the more immediate and crucial reports from Khe Sanh, Hue and Saigon.

But in the meantime, a massive international explosion has already been fused by North Korea, probably with the full knowledge and support of the Soviet Union.

When a North Korean commando team infiltrated Seoul on January 21 for the purpose of assassinating the President of South Korea and when the PUEBLO was hijacked on January 23, it became publicly clear that North Korea has belligerent intentions. But, to military people, this was already well known. With Russian help, North Korea has dramatically increased her military potential. Kim Sung Eun, South Korea's Minister of Defense, estimates that North Korea has more than 500 fighter aircraft, including thirty of the advanced MIG 21 supersonic fighter bombers. She has twenty-four well camouflaged and covered air bases, 168 naval vessels including four submarines and 60 torpedo boats, 66 surface to air missile sites, thirteen radar sites, 14,814 artillery pieces, 3,459 mortars, 7,768 anti-tank guns, 1,571 anti-aircraft guns, 886 tanks, and nineteen well equipped infantry divisions supported by twenty-eight units of brigade or regimental strength. In addition, she has a trained reserve force of 1.2 million men.

Most of this buildup has been relatively recent and in violation of the Korean truce terms. To anyone but the most naive, this is a force geared for invasion rather than defense. North Korea clearly plans to launch an armed attack upon South Korea by 1970.

In the face of obvious plans for aggression, U.S. diplomats should be taking the offensive instead of passively sweeping incidents like the PUEBLO under State Department rugs. It appears that by ignoring reality, our diplomats and the President will once again wait until it is too late.

This nation, which has done so much for the rest of the free world, now has the right to pointedly request its cooperation in securing the return of the PUEBLO and her crew, and in preventing a possible renewal of the Korean War. As a first step, I have suggested to President Johnson that he ask our free world allies to impose stringent economic sanctions against North Korea. U.S. Commerce figures show that Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and Japan import North Korean goods and, in turn, export goods to that Communist nation. The volume of trade is not heavy by our standards but it is increasing and includes strategic materials.

No better method of serving notice that the free world will no longer tolerate hijacking and aggression by North Korea could be found than imposing economic sanctions. No country has a better right than the United States to stand before its friends and allies and ask for sanctions.

Passive diplomacy won't work again. Something new must be tried if we are to prevent future PUEBLO incidents and another Korean War.

Campbell elementary students display quality science projects

Nearly 1,000 parents and children attended Campbell Union School District's 11th annual Science Fair at Castlemont School recently.

Health dept. urges check-up for new pupils

If you have a child who will enter school for the first time next Fall, the Santa Clara County Health Department recommends that your child receive a preschool physical examination from your private physician during the next few months.

The preschool physical examination is designed to detect physical defects and emotional problems which might limit your child's ability to learn. Hopefully, if a defect is found, it can be investigated and treated before school starts.

As a part of preparing your child for school, the Health Department also recommends that your child's immunizations be brought up-to-date.

Parents are reminded that there is a new state law which requires that all children entering California schools for the first time to be immunized against measles, unless the child already has had the measles.

Revival services

The Church of God of Prophecy, 250 Virginia Ave., Campbell, has a busy schedule for the month of April, according to Pastor Herman W. Bell.

On Sunday morning, April 7, at both the 9:45 and 11 a.m. service the "4-J's" will sing religious anthems and play musical instruments.

P.J. Wright of Martin Ville, Virginia, well known minister throughout the eastern states, will conduct revival services nightly beginning April 16. Musical groups to participate will be the Herald Quartet, gospel singers from the Bay Area, on April 19; the Victory Three-Trio, on April 16-17 and 21, and Dannibelle Hall, one of America's foremost gospel singers, will sing on April 16 and Saturday, April 20.

FIRST POLICE

In 1829 when Sir Robert Peel founded the prototype of the present metropolitan police system, it was estimated that in England there was one criminal to every 22 persons.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

Last weekend the Campbell High Band Auxiliary Groups attended the Northern California State Championship competition in Fresno at McLane High School.

The Pirettes, Flag Girls, and Drum Majors competed. McLane High School took practically all the firsts, so the other schools attending competed for seconds and thirds. The Pirettes took a second to McLane and the Flag Girls took a third to McLane and Westmont. The Drum Majors also lost out to McLane. Other local schools competing were Westmont, Leigh, and Lynbrook. At the meet there were competitions for cheerleaders, song girls, and majorettes. McLane took firsts in all of these.

DISNEYLAND TRIP

The Buc Band will be going to Disneyland this Easter vacation for three days to participate in the annual Disneyland Parade. They will leave on April 8 and return April 10. The band will receive free passes to Disneyland. Each member is required to pay $12.00 for hotel, food and transportation. William Perkins is the band director.

The Varsity baseball teams lost to Westmont last week with a score of 6-4.

A swim meet was held last Friday in the Campbell pools. The Buc swimmers out swam Westmont with a splashing score of 55-39. Individual victorious swimmers were Bill Ridgway, Mark Luoto, Craig Meinhold and Ross Meinhold, and the Varsity relay team also took first.

College slates pre-registration counseling

Pre-registration counseling for West Valley College students for the fall, 1968 semesters, will be held from April 15 through June 13 for both returning and new students, and appointments are now being made at the college, according to Don Ziegler, Dean of Admissions and Records.

During these sessions, students will be aided by their counselor in the selection of courses or alternate courses.

Registration will be completed in the Student Union, August 29-30, and September 3-4, and classes for the 1968-69 school year will begin on September 10.

Ziegler pointed out that students who have previously attended West Valley College but are not currently enrolled must submit an application for readmission prior to requesting a counseling appointment. Admission forms are available in the Admissions and Records Office.

Campbell shines at science fair

The eighth annual Santa Clara Valley Science Fair at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds last weekend had over 400 scientific displays exhibited by the valley's sixth through 12 grade students. Admission was free. Campbell students had their share of displays.

Exhibits were in three major divisions - biological, physcal and technical.

Judges selected nearly 40 first place winners and two grand award winners. Their projects were on display.

David Draper, a Willow Glen high school senior, won the grand award in biological sciences with his metabolism project, on the "Regeneration in Planaria." Larry B. Sorenson, a senior at Peterson High School in Santa Clara won the grand award in physical science.

Del Mar Branham top all-stars

Del Mar High, basketball champions of the West Valley Athletic League, placed two players on the all-league team (Tod Martin and Loren Toews) and one player, Hugh McCain, on the second team.

Campbell High placed Bruce Winkler on the second team but Leigh, Los Gatos, and Westmont were unable to crash the elite group and had to be content with one from each gaining honorable mention.

Branham placed Gary Radunich and Mike Musgraves on the first team and Camden had Paul Worsham, from Camden, filled out the quintet.

Jeff Momsen and Rick Wright from Blackford and Don Lewis of Saratoga completed the second team.

Honorable mention ratings went to Stew Goesch, Los Gatos; Lew Gasper, Camden; John Boysen, Westmont; Stan Hedegard, Campbell; Floyd Bowen, Branham; Rich Troedson, Camden; Doug Oliver, Leigh and Jim Olsen, Blackford.

John Galbraith, noted economist, to speak at WV college Thursday

John Kenneth Galbraith, noted economist and diplomat, will lecture at West Valley College auditorium on Thursday, April 4 at 8 p.m. under the auspices of community services.

Galbraith, professor of economics, has taught at the University of California, Harvard and Princeton. He received his Ph.D. in Economics from the University of California and was Social Science Research Council Fellow at Cambridge University 1937-38.

During the second World War, Galbraith was Deputy Administrator of the Office of Price Administration. In this post he was principally responsible for organizing the wartime system of price control which he headed until 1943.

Later, he was a director of the U.S. Strategic Bombing Survey and the head of the Office of Economic Security Policy in the Department of State. He was awarded the Medal of Freedom by President Truman for his wartime service. He was for several years an editor of Fortune.

Galbraith is the author of American Capitalism; The Great Crash; The Affluent Society; The Liberal Hour; Economics and the Art of Controversy; Economic Development; The Scotch; and The New Industrial State.

Galbraith has long been active in Democratic Party affairs and in 1952 and 1956 was a member of the campaign staff of Adlai Stevenson. An early and active supporter of John F. Kennedy, he was on the 1960 convention staff of the late President and was associated with him in numerous political activities.

From the spring of 1961 until mid-1963, Galbraith was Ambassador of the United States of India. He was actively concerned during these years with American assistance policy and Indian economic development.

In his Thousand Days, Arthur Schlesinger notes that "From time to time the President took pleasure in announcing that Galbraith was the best ambassador he had."

Admission to the lecture is free. However, due to the limit of seats available in the auditorium, admission will be by ticket only. Tickets are available through the office of community services at West Valley College. Telephone 379-1733.

Letters to the Editor

ON MIND-CHANGING

Dear George:

Having attended the "Candidate Forum" last Friday night, it appears that some people are still confused regarding the rezoning episode adjacent to Llewellyn and the San Tomas Expressway. Your exuberance in reporting and your editorial comments about the bizarre incident (March 13, 1968 issue) were not especially helpful, in that you were either not aware of or you chose to ignore certain facts and one valid assumption.

Fact one: The City Council has complete and final authority to act upon the zone change.

Fact two: The original recommendation of approval by the Planning Commission could have been adopted by the Council by a mere majority vote.

Fact three: The Council, however, voted unanimously (motion by Smeed and second by Doetsch) to refer the matter back to the Planning Commission upon the basis of new evidence.

Assumption: If the original recommendation by the Planning Commission was correct, even though they had not heard the evidence presented by the protestants, the Council would not have wasted the time of the applicant, the protestants, and the Planning Commission by requiring an additional hearing.

Fact four: After having returned the matter back to the Planning Commission because of new evidence, Councilmen Doetsch (motion), Hyde (second), and Smeed voted in favor of the original Planning Commission recommendation because no new evidence was submitted.

Question: Did four Planning Commissioners change their minds or did four Councilmen change theirs???

Sincerely,
F. R. Klein

SERVICE???

OPEN LETTER:

HOW DOES ONE GET RELIABLE SERVICE on essential home appliances in 1968?

CASE IN POINT: Frigidaire Automatic Washer "Repaired" by Amco Appliance Service, 19 So. 3rd St., Campbell, Calif., at the cost of $46.15 and returned Nov. 2, 1967. WASHER held in shop 10 days - used 4 washings-(only 2 people) PICKED UP for same repairs on 12/27/67 - held in shop 2 weeks. RETURNED AGAIN 1/10/68 - used 3 washings - still only 2 people. AMCO APPLIANCE SERVICE called again, 2/10/68 - failed to respond for repairs.

ADDRESSED a letter to Mr. M. Nelson, Customer Relations Representative of Frigidaire Sales Corporation, 1700 Marina Boulevard, San Leandro, Calif., 2/14/68.

RECEIVED communication from Mr. Nelson for me to call him, 2/27/68.

TELEPHONED MR. NELSON and was assured of a washer repair at NO EXTRA COST, and that I should call I. & B Appliance Service of Sunnyvale.

THAT a Mr. Petrie, Frigidaire Appliance Service Representative would call - no contact ever made.

CALLED L & B "Authorized" APPLIANCE SERVICE of Sunnyvale, Calif., 2/28/68. Date for repairs, 3/5/68.

L & B returned call, indicating a labor charge of $45 to $50. This being in addition to the $46.15 already paid AMCO APPLIANCE to repair my washer.

AN ADDITIONAL telephone call to Mr. Nelson to clarify charges - when previously he indicated there would be NO CHARGE.

MR. NELSON disclaimed the "NO CHARGE" statement, claiming he could furnish the parts, BUT not the labor.

MR. NELSON suggested further that AMCO APPLIANCE SERVICE should be forced to make good their previous repair job.

"DOC", manager of AMCO APPLIANCE was contacted again Monday, 3/4/68 after numerous previous attempts. "Doc" indicated "We are reasonable people" and promised to send someone the next day. NO ONE arrived.

NUMEROUS attempts to contact "DOC" since. We always found him NOT AVAILABLE.

TUESDAY 3/12 a specific telephone message was left for "DOC". NO ANSWER. NO SERVICE resulted.

A PERSONAL stop was made at AMCO SERVICE Tuesday, 3/19/68 with a request for "DOC" to call - or - BETTER yet, to send a serviceman for this FRIGIDAIRE WASHER on Wednesday 3/20/68.

THE OFFICE GIRL was personally seen to write this message. TUESDAY March 26, 1968 5 P.M. still NOT Contacted and NO Service.

ORDINANCE NO. 28
AN ORDINANCE EXTENDING THE TIME FOR REIMBURSEMENT
(Emergency)

The Board of Directors of County Sanitation District No. 4 of Santa Clara County, California, does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1.
AMENDMENT

Sub-paragraph b. of Section 8.04 of Article VIII of Ordinance No. 10 of County Sanitation District No. 4 of Santa Clara County, California, previously adopted by this Board, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"b. The lapse of fifteen (15) years from date of entry of Installer's name on Reimbursement Account."

SECTION 2.
EMERGENCY

It is hereby declared that this Ordinance is an Ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and is an emergency ordinance, as provided by law. The facts constituting said emergency are as follows: A fair reimbursement program should, so far as practicable, provide full reimbursement to the installer. Accordingly, an ordinance taking effect immediately is necessary so that those installers may be fully reimbursed, along with other installers in future years.

SECTION 3.
SEVERABILITY

This Ordinance is to be liberally construed to affect its purpose. If any section, sub-section, clause, sentence or phrase of this Ordinance is, for any reason, held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of any other portion of this Ordinance.

SECTION 4.
PUBLICATION

This Ordinance shall take effect immediately. Before the expiration of fifteen (15) days of its passage, it shall be published once with the names of the members voting for and against the same in the Campbell Press, a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated within said District.

ATTEST: JEAN PULLAN, Clerk
Board of Supervisors

OLD AND NEW--Old County Hospital building is demolished to make way for a four-story Rehabilitation Wing on the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center. Looking at architects drawing are (l. to r.) Assistant Administrator Richard E. Nunes, Superintendent Richard L. Myers of general contractor William & Burrows Inc., Admitting Officer Jeannette L. Barrette, R.N., and County Inspector Charles W. Rhaney.

STUDY CALIFORNIA MISSIONS--Coventry School fourth grade pupils, Jeff Lang, Tom Smith and Janet Sanders are shown arranging the mission models their class has just completed. The models were constructed by the children from styrofoam, cardboard, and other materials, as extra credit projects. The class recently made a trip to see the Mission at San Juan Bautista.

Old county hospital makes way for brand new wings

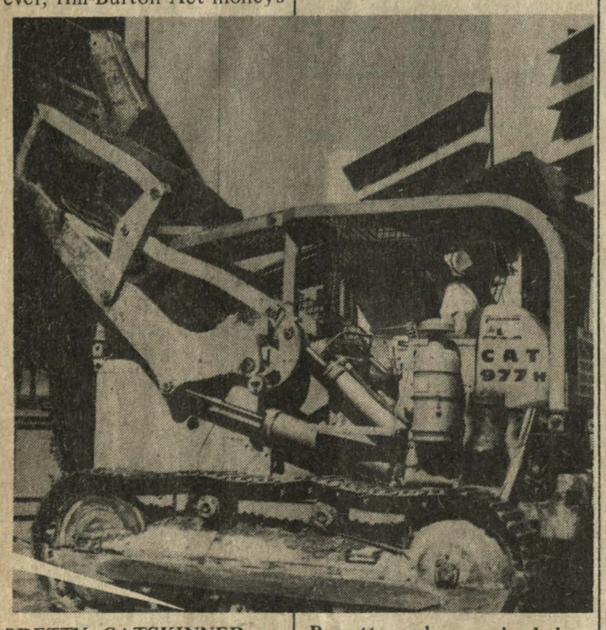
The much-loved classic portico of the old Santa Clara County Hospital Building in San Jose collapsed last week amid a cloud of dust and a resounding roar.

A score of cameras, both professional and amateur, clicked away as catskinner Hoyt L. Chambers rammed a 21-ton bulldozer against the tottering, 59-year-old, two-story structure and pushed it over into the driveway. Just before, demolition contractor Jack M. Farnham's men had used two dozers to topple the fluted forty-foot columns that had graced the entrance for so many years.

The old hospital building was erased to make way for Santa Clara Valley Medical Center's new four-story Rehabilitation Wing, scheduled for completion by general contractor Williams and Burrows, Inc. in November, 1969.

The $4,281,700 structure will house 188 patients and will be devoted entirely to various kinds of medical rehabilitation. The four stories and full-use basement will feature many specialized facilities. The reinforced concrete building has been designed in contemporary style by San Jose architect Morton S. Curtis, A.I.A. It will be fully air-conditioned.

Most of the finances for the new facility were voted by the countywide electorate in the 1964 County Building and Parks Bond campaign. However, Hill-Burton Act moneys contributed equally by the Federal and State Governments total $1,138,474.



PRETTY CATSKINNER--Helping demolish old County Hospital portico was Registered Nurse Mrs. Jeannette L. Barrette, who received her nursing education in the old building.

RESOUNDING ROAR--A cloud of dust accompanied the demolition of the old County Hospital portico, making way for new Rehabilitation Wing on the Santa Clara Valley Medical Center.

State income tax this year causes problems for taxpayers

Thousands of Californians are miscalculating their 1967 State income tax, according to a sampling of returns received to date.

"We anticipated and geared up for a substantial increase in errors because of the major changes in the tax law," said Martin Huff, executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board, "but the errors to date are running well ahead of our estimates."

Many taxpayers, accustomed to the $1,500 personal and $600 dependent exemptions, are confused by their elimination and the substitution of "tax credits."

This is the one single, greatest cause of confusion, Huff said. In fact, he added, many taxpayers are continuing to take these exemptions even though there are no provisions for them on the forms for filing.

"Some taxpayers are overpaying by misapplying or failing to deduct their tax credits," he noted. "At the other extreme, many with no tax to pay are claiming the tax credits as a refund."

Huff warned Californians not to wait until the last minute to begin work on their State income tax. "If they start now and discover they need help, our offices can accommodate them," he said, "but if they delay until a few days before the deadline, they may have to take their chances on a long line."

Another possibility, he said, is that taxpayers may find the increase in their State income tax is considerably higher than they anticipated and more than the cash they have at hand.

The San Jose office of the Franchise Tax Board will remain open from 8 a.m. until 12 noon on Saturday, April 6, according to M.C. Johnson, branch manager.

Department personnel will be available to assist taxpayers who are having problems in the preparation of their 1967 State personal income tax returns.

Johnson urged taxpayers to either call or visit the office at 555 North First St. during the special Saturday hours or any weekday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
